

8

REVIEW: ADI AR-146

Here's a new two metre transceiver made by ADI. AD Who? Yep, ADI. Its little-known name is more than compensated for by its amazing price. Neil Duncan, VK3ND reports.

11

DXPEDITION TO BANABA

Ever fancied a one-man DX trip to a remote place? A real feast for a DX rev-head like our Jack, you'd think. Mr Haden's report is fascinating...

14

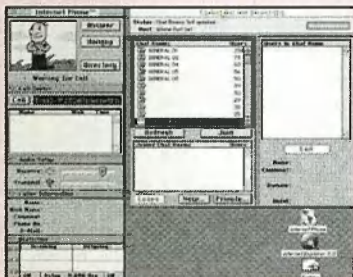

SCANNERS: WHICH ONE?

Russell Bryant continues his look at our mountain of scanners. Here's the second part of his report, which finishes off the hand-held units.

19

IPHONE CALLING...

Use your computer for international phone calls. Use the latest software which makes it possible. Tom Sundstrom reports...

22

REVIEW: YUPITERU MVT-9000 SCANNER

It's quite amazing what they can squeeze into a hand-held. Cop this: 1000 memories, 20 scan banks, 20 search banks, roughly DC to 2000 MHz, all modes — that's all modes, folks — and change from $1000. Over to you Russell...

IT'S ALL IN THIS ISSUE

32

HAVE A CRACK AT PACKET...

Sure, the Internet has moved in, and in a big way. But don't forget packet radio. It's a buzz!! So says Hank Pruncken, VK5JAZ, who's just discovered it — a few years late!

36

SCANNER THREAT!

Legislation currently under consideration in the USA may see scanning receivers banned there. If they're outlawed there, we lose...

39

BRISBANE VKR FREQS

Calling all scanners... if you live in Brissy, check out this listing...

48

BUILD A SPEAKER/MIC

Got an old mobile mic in the shack just gathering dust? Why not turn it into a spkr/mic for the HT? Jason did...

59

LIGHT AIRCRAFT LANES

There can be a lot more to listening to the air bands than just tuning a bunch of Jumbos. Ask Bob Bell...

62

SIMOCO. SIMOCO WHO?

Okay, you can see the pretty advert on the opposite page as well as I can, but who are these people? We zoomed over to Mulgrave to find out.

78

A NOVEL ROTATOR

Neville needed another rotator, but without the expense. But a Subaru? Is nothing sacred?

82

20 YEARS OF CB DX...

Here's a rundown of lots of activity. Amateurs might be surprised at what the 11M gang gets up to...